Exterior House Painting Acceptable Color Selection - Revised April 28th, 2008

All original color schemes remain acceptable. Body colors are restricted to include the body of the home along with the front door and the garage door to be painted the same color. The front door may also be stained wood.

If you wish to vary from the original or previously painted home color you will need to submit an Architectural submittal form for review and approval of the Design Review Committee. Your combinations of the colors below will be reviewed on a case by case basis for approval with this new pallet. These paint color numbers are from Dunn Edwards.
